About Survey:

Prof. Maciejewski helped polish my articles, and pointed mistakes which I thought I had fixed them completely in .bib. We will keep on revising it these days.

About netease:

I re-organized and processed the data and put it on Google docs. I detected several errors and problems in the data. For example, they missed around 60,000 records of buying fashion, half of the goods are not classified in their classification table. We discussed about building models(or applying existing models) on the process of communication influences consumption.

I will devote most of my time in running over my courses and take exams or writing course essays in the next few days.
